

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

IN MEMORIAM.

Mary C. Osborn was born Mar. 9, 1873; died at Colorado Springs May 5, 1907. She, with her husband and little daughter left Joplin for the springs about two and a half months ago, hoping to regain her health. Her body was brought back to Baxter Springs to be buried beside her mother and baby.

She was married to W. V. Osborn Oct. 23, 1905, who with an only daughter survive her and feel deeply the loss that has come to them. Funeral services were held at the Christian church (of which she has been a member since the age of fourteen years) Monday, May 13, 1907, conducted by Rev. D. M. Harris of Galena.

Deceased was a daughter of John Treat of Galena and neice of David Treat of this city.

Revival Services.

At the M. E. Church beginning Sunday, May 19, continuing three weeks. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. S. A. French, evangelist, and son, L. A. French, singer, both of Neosho, Mo.

Rev. French will preach the Memorial day sermon for the Grand Army Post on Sunday May 26, at the M. E. church. L. A. French will have charge of the singing.

Will hold service on the second Sunday of each month, 11 a. m., and 8 p. m., at the residence of Rev. James Tanner.

Dr. English. Phone 198.

There is all kinds of new goods on display at Cooper's.

Parties wishing to pay me for colts and thereby save discount, can leave money with either of the Baxter Springs banks or M. B. Williams. P. B. WHITE.

The Gregory Trading Company has just received a big invoice of mattresses and other bedroom comforts. The prices are less than you have seen in the habit of paying, and you can not only make money, but save some by giving the Gregory Trading Company a trial order.

There will be services at St. Mark's Episcopal church next Sunday evening, as usual. St. Mark's church is becoming a very popular place of worship, and the sermons delivered by Rector Pooley are both instructive and entertaining. The music by the vested choir is fine, and as the choir has regular rehearsals it will reach the acme of perfection.

THURSDAY, MAY 16.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Extra Long Session Held Tuesday Night—Appointments Made and a Survey Ordered Made.

May 14, 1907.

The council met in regular session, Mayor Jones presiding and all members of the council present. Minutes of last two meetings were read and approved.

Petition asking for grade on East Spring street was laid on table until survey is made.

Committee appointed to select and purchase chairs for the city opera house reported that chairs are ordered.

Report of marshal was read, approved and filed.

Ordinances Nos. 88 and 89 were passed, under a suspension of the rules. These ordinances will be found in another place in this paper.

Bills as follows were allowed:
C. M. Jones, for cash paid out for hauling, and for cleaning up the opera house, $5.

S. H. Ditty, labor and material on South Military street culvert, $2.25.

A. B. Willard, coal, $1.45.
Geo. C. Connor, supplies for clerk's office, $1.25.

Light Company, lights and installation, $65.75.

Bills of Geo. W. Peterson and Cherokee County Republican were by the mayor ordered laid over until the next regular meeting.

The clerk reported some delinquent occupation tax and asked for instructions. He was told to proceed along lines of ordinance.

Lights were ordered placed at the intersection of Grant and Murray streets and Main and Murray streets.

The matter of making a survey of the town was then taken up, and after a thorough discussion it was decided a survey is necessary. The mayor was instructed to make the necessary arrangements for the survey and report to the city council.

The marshal was instructed to collect dog tax or do the other thing—kill the dog.

The marshal was instructed to enforce the stock ordinance; also to take up and impound animals found tied where they can get on the walk or into the street.

The following nominations were made and confirmed:

For City Clerk—Geo. Connor.
For Marshal—Henry Horton.
For Street Commissioner—Sam Ditty.

For City Attorney—E. H. Culison.

For City Physician—Dr. F. L. McKinney.

Board of Health—Drs. Boswell, Wear, English, McKinney.

The Baxter Springs News was made the official city paper.

The street commissioner was instructed to put in a sewer culvert on the north side of River street at the intersection of Missouri avenue.

THE LAY OF THE KANSAS HEN

We have read of Maud on a summer day,
Who raked, barefooted, the new mown hay;
We have read of the maid in the early morn,
Who milked the cow with the crumpled horn;
And we've read the lays that the poets sing,
Of the rustling corn and the flowers of spring;
But of all the lays of tongue or pen,
There's naught like the lay of the Kansas hen.
Long, long before Maud rakes the hay,
The Kansas hen begins to lay,
And ere the milkmaid stirs a peg
The hen is up and has dropped her egg;
The corn must rustle and the flowers must spring
If they hold their own with the barn-yard ring.
If Maud is needing a hat or gown,
She doesn't hustle her hay to town,
But goes to the store and obtains her suit
With a basketful of her fresh hen fruit;
If the milkmaid's beau makes a Sunday call,
She doesn't feed him on milk at all,
But works up eggs in a custard pie
And stuffs him full of chicken fry;
And when the old man wants a horn
Does he take the druggist a load of corn?
Not much! He simply robs a nest
And to town he goes—you know the rest.
He hangs around with the cliques and rings,
And talks of politics and things,
While his poor wife stays at home and scowls,
But is saved from want by those self-same fowls;
For while her husband lingers there,
She watches the cackling hens with care,
And gathers eggs, and the eggs she'll hide,
Till she saves enough to stem the tide.
Then hail, all hail, to the Kansas hen,
The greatest blessing of all to men!
Throw up your hats and emit a howl
For the preserving barn yard fowl!
Corn may be king, but it's plainly seen
The Kansas hen is the Kansas queen.

Compliments of the Baxter Produce Company,
cash buyers of Poultry, Eggs, Hides and Furs, west of Cooper's store, Baxter Springs, Kansas.

The mayor and council desire it understood that they stand for the literal enforcement of all the city ordinances.

At 12:15 a. m. the council adjourned, subject to the call of the mayor.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. C. W. Daniels died at her home in Mary Ann Park, May 7, having been unable to recover from an operation performed in Chicago last September.

Mary Parly was born in Salem, Mass., Sept. 30, 1848, and there her girlhood days were spent. In July, 1877, she was married to Chas. W. Daniels in Chicago, shortly afterward coming to Baxter Springs to reside.

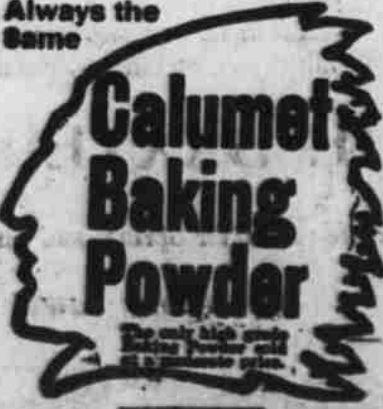

She was a beautiful character and had the love of all who knew her. Her intellect was marvelous, and her originality a source of great pleasure to her friends.

In her last days the thought of death had no terrors for her, and she looked forward to it as a release from suffering.

She leaves to mourn her death, besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. F. A. Dillaway of this city and Mrs. C. R. C. Dye of Canon City, Col., a brother, H. A. Parly, and two sisters, Mrs. Beebe M. Chase and Mrs. Edmonson, all of Chicago.

Private services were held on Thursday morning, May 9, at the home, and the remains, accompanied by relatives and friends, were sent to Chicago, where regular services were held in Rosehill cemetery, where she was laid to rest beside her two children, Ida and Harry.
